

Concern about climate change

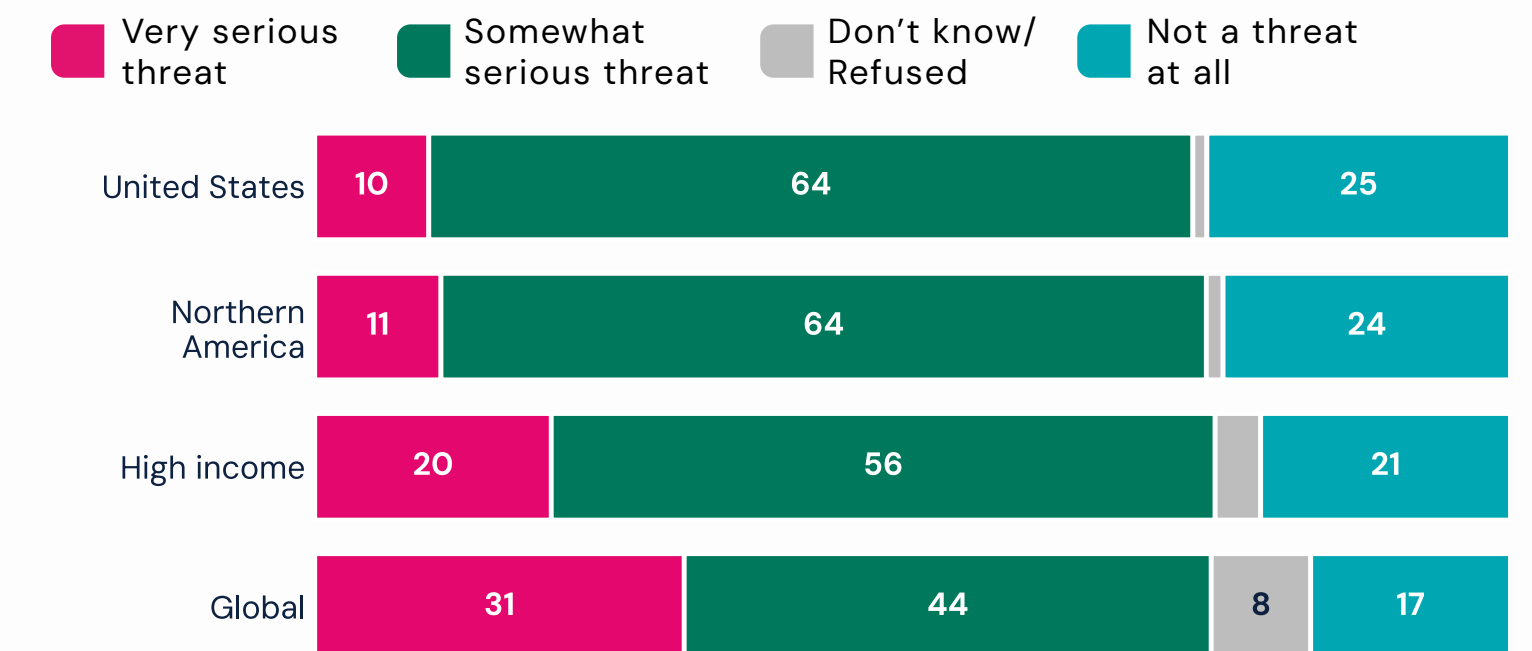

Climate change concern perceptions gap

The United States ranks 1st for misalignment out of 140 countries polled. People were more likely to think others were LESS concerned about climate change.

Other people's concerns about climate change

Climate change and severe weather as top of mind risk

