

Worry and experience of harm from everyday risks

Worry + country value
Experience + country value

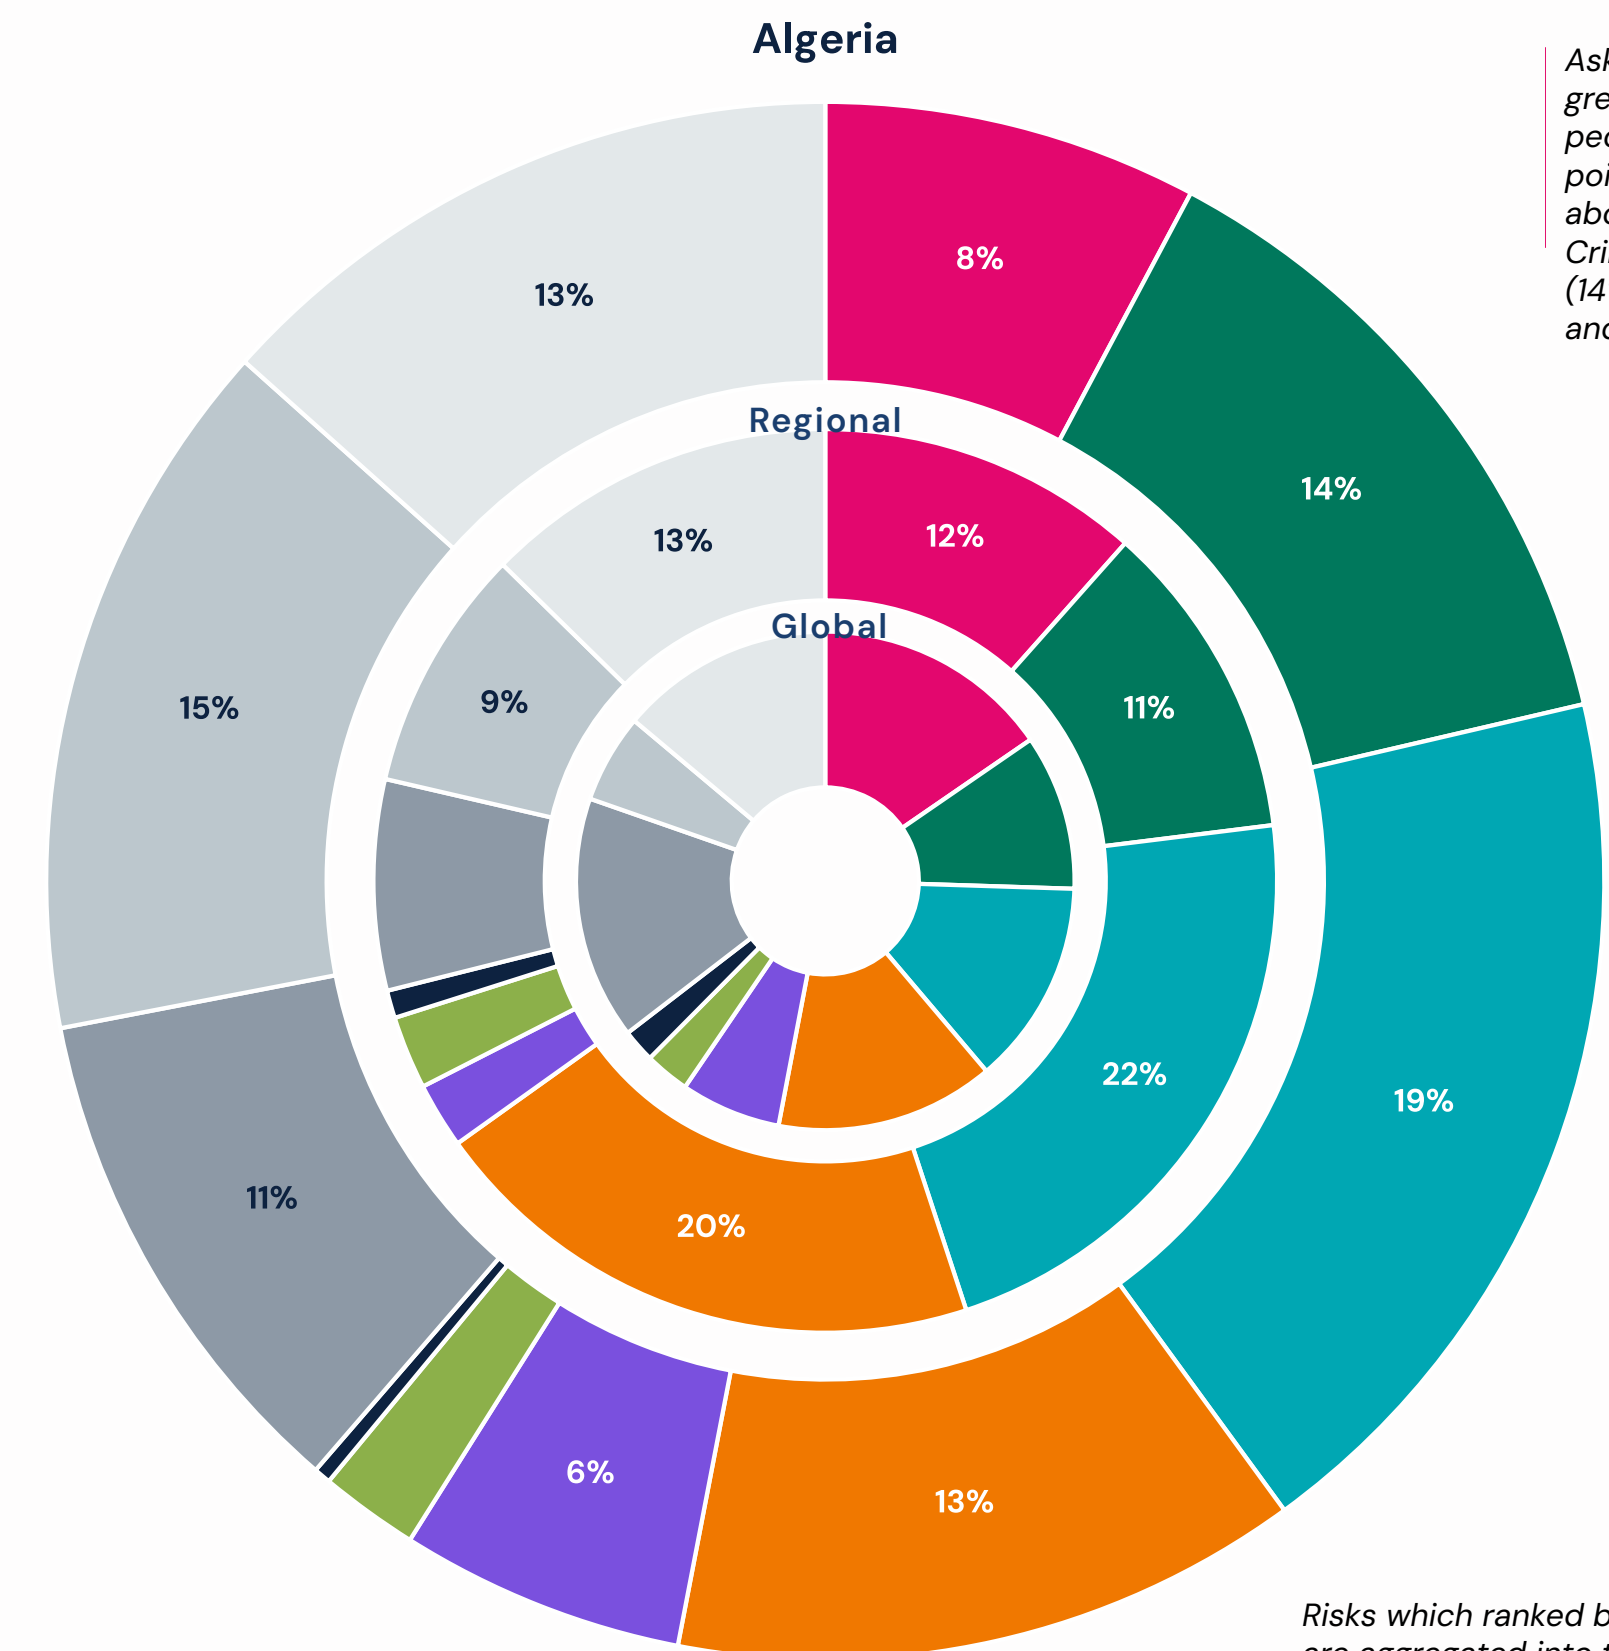

Dashed lines represent global average.
Dotted lines represent regional average.

People in Algeria are most worried about wildfires (70%) and prolonged severe weather (67%) causing them serious harm, the two highest levels of concern among the ten risks asked about. Across all ten, worry in Algeria runs lower than the global average. Concern far outstrips lived experience, however: while 70% worry about wildfires, only 6% have actually been harmed by it in the past two years. The harm most commonly experienced in Algeria is the food they eat (20%). The gap between worry and experience is widest for wildfires, where 70% are worried but 6% have actually been affected.

Top of mind risk to safety

Road and transport
Crime and violence
Health
Economy and financial
Climate and severe weather
War/terrorism
Work
Other risks*
Nothing/No risk
Don't know

Asked to name the single greatest risk to their daily safety, people in Algeria most often point to health problems (19%), above the global figure of 13%. Crime and violence ranks second (14%), followed by the economy and personal finances (13%).

Risks which ranked below 2% of the global average are aggregated into this 'Other risks' category.