

Worry and experience of harm from everyday risks

People in Ecuador are most worried about violent crime (94%) and road and traffic accidents (89%) causing them serious harm, the two highest levels of concern among the ten risks asked about. Across all ten, worry in Ecuador runs higher than the global average. Concern far outstrips lived experience, however: while 94% worry about violent crime, only 6% have actually been harmed by it in the past two years. The harm most commonly experienced in Ecuador is prolonged severe weather (14%). The gap between worry and experience is widest for violent crime, where 94% are worried but 6% have actually been affected.

Top of mind risk to safety

Asked to name the single greatest risk to their daily safety, people in Ecuador most often point to crime and violence (61%), above the global figure of 10%. Health problems ranks second (8%), followed by road and transport accidents (8%).

Risks which ranked below 2% of the global average are aggregated into this 'Other risks' category.
