Dotted lines represent regional average.

People in Lithuania are most worried about prolonged severe weather (56%) and road and traffic accidents (56%) causing them serious harm, the two highest levels of concern among the ten risks asked about. Across all ten, worry in Lithuania runs lower than the global average. Concern far outstrips lived experience, however: while 56% worry about prolonged severe weather, only 6% have actually been harmed by it in the past two years. The harm most commonly experienced in Lithuania is the food they eat (9%). The gap between worry and experience is widest for prolonged severe weather, where 56% are worried but 6% have actually been affected.
