

Worry and experience of harm from everyday risks

People in Malaysia are most worried about violent crime (89%) and prolonged severe weather (88%) causing them serious harm, the two highest levels of concern among the ten risks asked about. Across all ten, worry in Malaysia runs higher than the global average. Concern far outstrips lived experience, however: while 89% worry about violent crime, only 2% have actually been harmed by it in the past two years. The harm most commonly experienced in Malaysia is road and traffic accidents (15%). The gap between worry and experience is widest for violent crime, where 89% are worried but 2% have actually been affected.

Top of mind risk to safety

Asked to name the single greatest risk to their daily safety, people in Malaysia most often point to road and transport accidents (23%), above the global figure of 15%. Health problems ranks second (16%), followed by the economy and personal finances (16%).

Risks which ranked below 2% of the global average are aggregated into this 'Other risks' category.
