

Worry and experience of harm from everyday risks

Worry + country value
Experience + country value

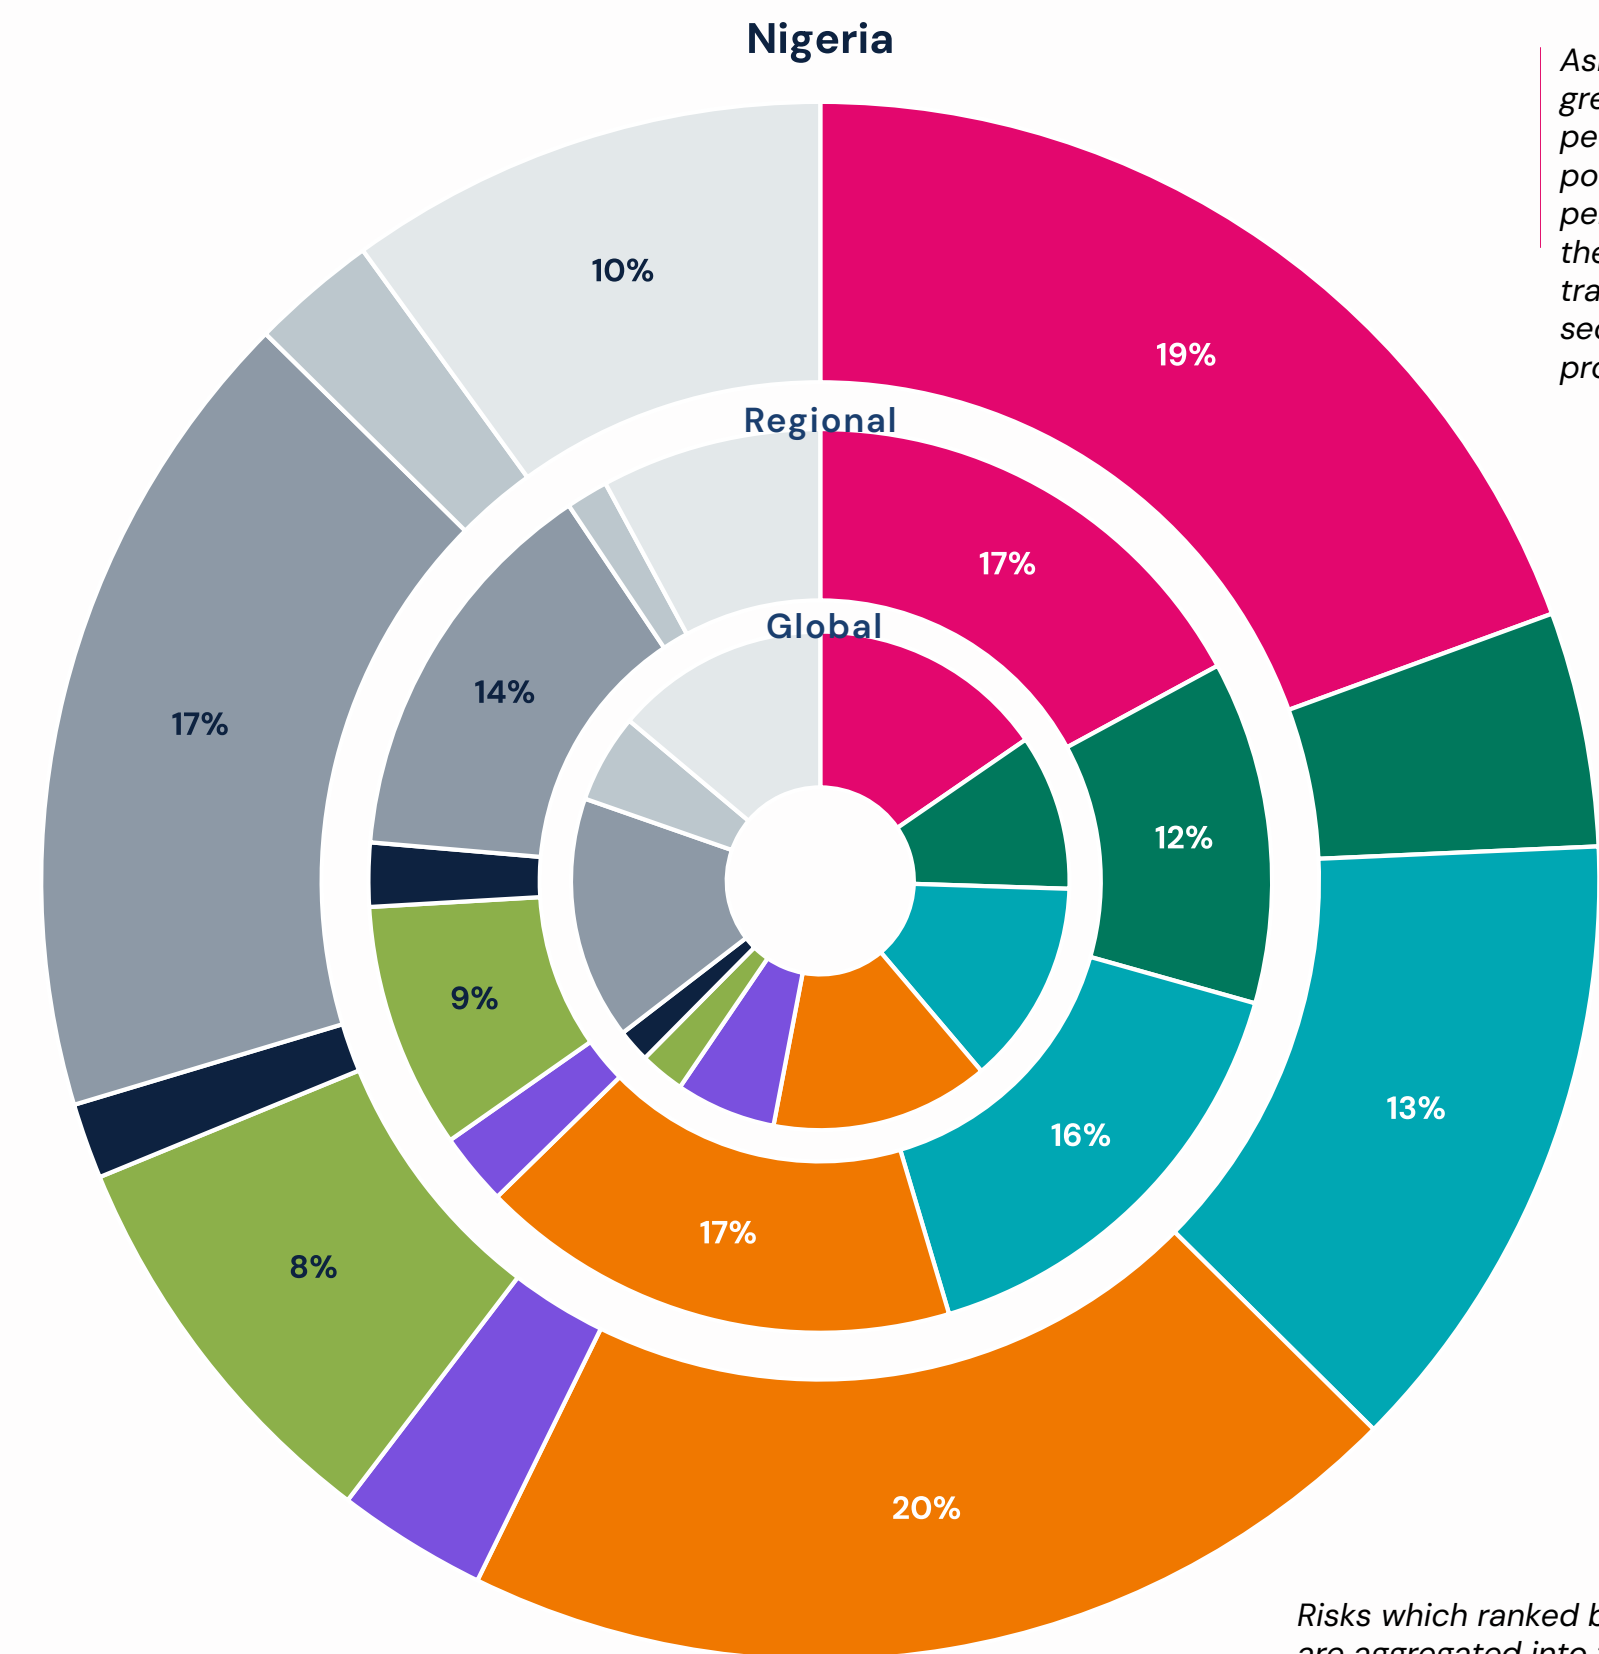

Dashed lines represent global average.
Dotted lines represent regional average.

People in Nigeria are most worried about road and traffic accidents (75%) and violent crime (73%) causing them serious harm, the two highest levels of concern among the ten risks asked about. Across all ten, worry in Nigeria runs lower than the global average. Concern far outstrips lived experience, however: while 75% worry about road and traffic accidents, only 20% have actually been harmed by it in the past two years. The harm most commonly experienced in Nigeria is the work they do (20%). The gap between worry and experience is widest for violent crime, where 73% are worried but 16% have actually been affected.
