

Worry and experience of harm from everyday risks

People in Pakistan are most worried about road and traffic accidents (73%) and prolonged severe weather (59%) causing them serious harm, the two highest levels of concern among the ten risks asked about. Across all ten, worry in Pakistan runs lower than the global average. Concern far outstrips lived experience, however: while 73% worry about road and traffic accidents, only 11% have actually been harmed by it in the past two years. The harm most commonly experienced in Pakistan is severe weather events (13%). The gap between worry and experience is widest for road and traffic accidents, where 73% are worried but 11% have actually been affected.

Top of mind risk to safety

Asked to name the single greatest risk to their daily safety, people in Pakistan most often point to the economy and personal finances (29%), above the global figure of 14%. Crime and violence ranks second (12%), followed by climate change and severe weather (9%).

Risks which ranked below 2% of the global average are aggregated into this 'Other risks' category.
