

Worry and experience of harm from everyday risks

People in Sierra Leone are most worried about road and traffic accidents (85%) and the work they do (72%) causing them serious harm, the two highest levels of concern among the ten risks asked about. Across all ten, worry in Sierra Leone runs in line with the global average. Concern far outstrips lived experience, however: while 85% worry about road and traffic accidents, only 27% have actually been harmed by it in the past two years. The harm most commonly experienced in Sierra Leone is road and traffic accidents (27%). The gap between worry and experience is widest for road and traffic accidents, where 85% are worried but 27% have actually been affected.

Top of mind risk to safety

Asked to name the single greatest risk to their daily safety, people in Sierra Leone most often point to road and transport accidents (19%), above the global figure of 15%. Health problems ranks second (18%), followed by the economy and personal finances (11%).

Risks which ranked below 2% of the global average are aggregated into this 'Other risks' category.
