Dashed lines represent global average.
Dotted lines represent regional average.

People in Spain are most worried about prolonged severe weather (84%) and wildfires (84%) causing them serious harm, the two highest levels of concern among the ten risks asked about. Across all ten, worry in Spain runs in line with the global average. Concern far outstrips lived experience, however: while 84% worry about prolonged severe weather, only 24% have actually been harmed by it in the past two years. The harm most commonly experienced in Spain is prolonged severe weather (24%). The gap between worry and experience is widest for wildfires, where 84% are worried but 9% have actually been affected.
