Dashed lines represent global average.

Dotted lines represent regional average.

People in Togo are most worried about road and traffic accidents (82%) and prolonged severe weather (70%) causing them serious harm, the two highest levels of concern among the ten risks asked about. Across all ten, worry in Togo runs lower than the global average. Concern far outstrips lived experience, however: while 82% worry about road and traffic accidents, only 17% have actually been harmed by it in the past two years. The harm most commonly experienced in Togo is road and traffic accidents (17%). The gap between worry and experience is widest for road and traffic accidents, where 82% are worried but 17% have actually been affected.
