Dashed lines represent global average.

Dotted lines represent regional average.

People in South Korea are most worried about prolonged severe weather (92%) and wildfires (88%) causing them serious harm, the two highest levels of concern among the ten risks asked about. Across all ten, worry in South Korea runs higher than the global average. Concern far outstrips lived experience, however: while 92% worry about prolonged severe weather, only 11% have actually been harmed by it in the past two years. The harm most commonly experienced in South Korea is mental health issues (12%). The gap between worry and experience is widest for wildfires, where 88% are worried but 2% have actually been affected.
